Daily Whig and Courier.

(Dispatches to the Evening Papers)

Instructions to Officers commanding the Naval Expedition—News from the first number of the new series of the Bangor Daily Whig and Courier, as his Commission as a Colonel.

Gen. Fremont has returned to his headquarters at Fort Verde, Col. Curtis and his army of 10,000 men, with a regiment of Infantry and two pieces of artillery.

Thompson and his command were pursued 12 miles by the rebels, and then the Green River when the chase was abandoned. They are now at Greenville, where they are completely surrounded by the rebels.

The detachment sent to bury the dead after the battle reported that 200 rebels killed and left on the field. Our loss was six killed and about 100 wounded, one mortally.

Baker before the expected reinforcements could come to the relief. The federal troops, though outnumbered in numbers, stood out against the attack with magnificent bravery.

Both parties suffered severely in killed and wounded. Our informant saw over 100 dead rebels, while the rebels were no more than a few hundred. The rebels were in the neighborhood of the camp.

The expectation that the national troops would be able to come in and surround the rebels at Leesburg, combined the utmost excitement of the Confederates, who there are a large number of the vicinity being Leeburg, were prepared to receive and repulse the Union army, whilst many prominent men were making preparations to leave.

The report of the National of course caused a corresponding depression with one class and most extraordinary excitement with the other. After the battle the rebels rapidly hurried up in reinforcements and at the time to which our information extends they had from 19,000 to 15,000 men at Leesburg and Waterford.

and one respect of Gen. Sigel's division will march there at daylight.

Gen. Zebulon and staff, and Gen. Sigel's division, started by forced marches for Springfield at daylight to-morrow morning, and will probably arrive there in the evening. Gen. McKim's army was two miles north of Warsaw last night. Gen. Pope was this side of the Ozark, and Gen. Hunter in advance of him, all marching to this point.

I understand that in the Southern wing of the Confederates, and Sigel will have the left wing, Gen. Hunter the right. As both the main column and McKim's division will form the Reserve, Gen. Sigel will take the advance. Nothing further has been heard from Price, and no news of Gen. McCulloch.

Special despatches to the St. Louis Democrat says Gen. Kennedy, who has just returned to Sedalia from Price's army, says his men are much distressed at the prospect of leaving that State, and that they will force him to make a stand within our borders. On the other hand it is ascertained that General Johnston has left Kentucky to take command of Price and McCulloch's forces, and the before leaving that State he sent orders to Price and McCulloch directing them to fall back into Arkansas and no give General Fremont battle until he could reach them.

Gen. Kennedy says Gen. Fremont will find a much larger force to contend against than he imagines. Considerable numbers of General Price's rebels are arriving in this section daily, and it is feared that they will recover their plundering habits as soon as our troops leave.
